Customers looking for these agencies came to www.thenextwave.biz this year.

If you want to learn how to build a site that search engines love— and that any idiot can maintain— this seminar is well worth your $99. And if you are using any of these agencies for your site— you should come too (to learn what they are doing wrong).

However, if you want potential customers to keep going to The Next Wave site— that's fine too.

Either way, we'll take your money.

next seminar: Sat, May 27, 2006
